

Marcus Rossberg

TBA

Abstract: N/A

Marcus Rossberg is associate professor of philosophy at the University of Connecticut, affiliated faculty of the UConn department of mathematics, director of the UConn Logic Group, editor-in-chief of Journal for the History of Analytical Philosophy, associate editor of Erkenntnis, and member of the editorial board of the journal Thought. Marcus works in logic and philosophy of mathematics. In his historical research, he mainly works on Gottlob Frege, Rudolf Carnap, and Nelson Goodman.

Selected Publications:

Essays on Frege's Basic Laws of Arithmetic (ed. with Philip A. Ebert) Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2019

Gottlob Frege: Basic Laws of Arithmetic. (trans. and ed. with Philip A. Ebert) Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2013

Nelson Goodman. (with Daniel Cohnitz) Chesham: Acumen & Montreal: McGill-Queen's University Press, 2006; Routledge, 2014